PREFACE

IN the autumn of 1906 I obtained by purchase a manuscript Index of the Pedigrees in Burke's Commoners, apparently prepared by Mr. George Ormerod, the historian of Cheshire, in 1840.

The facility of reference this Index gave to the consultation of the book made me think that others might like to have the advantage of Mr. Ormerod's labours. The Indexes to each of the four volumes of the Commoners have to be consulted before you can be sure that a Pedigree sought for is not contained in the book.

Through the kindness of the editors of the Literary Supplement of the Times, of the Athenaeum, of Notes and Queries, and of the Genealogist, I have been able to discover about a hundred persons who think the Index likely to be useful, and are ready to subscribe for its reproduction in print. Incidentally I also found that another genealogist besides Mr. Ormerod had thought it worth while to make a similar Index for himself.

The Genealogical and Heraldic History of the Commoners of Great Britain and Ireland was originally issued volume by volume in 1834 and the following years. In 1837 a small paper edition was issued in four volumes, corresponding page for page with the original issue on larger paper. The Index, therefore, is equally available for the earlier large and the later small paper edition. Such corrections as could be made without altering the pagination were made in the re-issue, and the first two pages of the earlier first volume, which contained the pedigree of Manners-Sutton, who was Speaker of the House of Commons in 1832, and had been raised to the peerage before 1837, were suppressed without altering the pagination; and Thomas Coke of Holkham's portrait substituted as frontispiece for that of the Speaker.

Mr. C. L. Stainer has carefully compared Mr. Ormerod's manuscript with the small paper edition of the book, and the Index has been printed with as great care as possible.

I owe my best thanks to him, to the late Mr. Ormerod's representatives, who cordially assented to the publication of the manuscript, to the editors of the periodicals I have above mentioned, and to the subscribers to the Index.
